THE COMMUNITY WARRIOR

Many people recognize Tami Halton Pardee for her high-achieving team based in California. After all, they were ranked No. 3 teams by transaction volume and No. 175 teams by transaction number in the 2018 REAL Trends The Thousand. What you may not know is how involved she is in changing the lives of others. She's donated more than $1.3 million toward uplifting underserved areas of Venice and West Los Angeles. But her true passion lies with helping homeless pregnant women set goals, face their fears and find success. Her foundation, Life Change Warriors (lifechangewarriors.org) coaches homeless pregnant women and underprivileged youth through a six-week program that helps them map out a brighter, more stable future.
